CopperBank Obtains Technical Report For San Diego Bay Project in Alaska

Vancouver, Canada – February 26, 2018 - CopperBank Resources Corp. (“CopperBank” or the “Company”) (CSE:CBK) is pleased to announce that SRK Consulting (“SRK”), an independent consulting firm, has delivered a NI 43-101 compliant report for the Company’s 100% controlled San Diego Bay Project, located on the Alaska Peninsula.

Gianni Kovacevic, CopperBank Executive Chairman, comments: “The San Diego Bay Project is an exciting new opportunity for our stakeholders. This maiden 43-101 compliant technical report establishes the Project as a stand-alone asset and is complementary to our portfolio. Our entire team is looking forward to next steps on the Project.”

SRK recommends pursuing exploration activities on the San Diego Bay Project, specifically trenching, mapping, geochemistry over areas marked by hydrothermal activity. The 43-101 report can be found on SEDAR and on the company website. A magnetic survey over the entire property is also contemplated to identify deep structures and the presence of intrusions under cover.

About San Diego Bay

The San Diego Bay Prospect is located on private property and is a joint venture on a 100% basis between CopperBank and the Aleut Corporation, an Alaska Native corporation controlling the subsurface mineral rights. The San Diego Bay prospect is typified by an extensive 17 square-kilometer area of strong hydrothermal alteration and intrusive rocks, consistent with an alteration halo over a porphyry system such as the adjacent Pyramid deposit, also controlled by CopperBank. All porphyry alteration facies have been described, including zones of potassic, advanced argillic and phyllic zones; a previous satellite imagery interpretation has identified widespread zones of high-temperature clay alteration. Strongly anomalous precious and base metal values were collected by previous operators in various areas. A short visit in August has allowed the Company to verify punctually the lithologies and alteration reported historically. Interpretation suggests that San Diego Bay may represent a long lived thriving hydrothermal system.

Brigitte Dejou, P.Eng. and Qualified Person as defined by NI 43-101, has reviewed and approved the technical information in this release.

CopperBank is a Canadian exploration mining company focused on energy related metal exploration in The United States of America. Advisory Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Certain information in this release constitutes forward looking statements or information (“forward-looking statements”) under applicable securities laws and necessarily involves risks and uncertainties. Forward-looking statements included herein are made as of the date of this news release and, except as required by applicable law, CopperBank does not undertake any obligation to update or revise any of the forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. The forward-looking statements contained in this document are expressly qualified by this cautionary statement. Forward-looking statements relate to future events or future performance and reflect management of CopperBank’s expectations or beliefs regarding future events. In certain cases, forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as “plans”, or “believes”, or variations of such words and phrases or statements that certain actions, events or results “may”, “could”, “would”, “might” or “will be taken”, “occur” or “be achieved” or the negative of these terms or comparable terminology. Examples of forward-looking statements in this news release include, but are not limited to, statements with respect to the Company’s ongoing review of its existing portfolio, the involvement of CopperBank in any potential divestiture, spin-out, partnership or other transactions involving the Company’s portfolio assets, and the ability of the Company to complete any such transactions, the ability of CopperBank to enter into transactions that will ultimately enhance shareholder value, and potential future work or activities in respect of the Pyramid project or the Contact project. Although CopperBank believes that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, forward-looking statements have been based on factors and assumptions concerning future events which may prove to be inaccurate. Those factors and assumptions are based upon currently available information available to CopperBank. Forward-looking statements are based, in part, on assumptions and factors that may change or prove to be incorrect, thus causing actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from those expressed or implied by forward-looking information. Such factors and assumptions include, but are not limited to, the Company’s ability to identify and complete one or more transactions involving the Company’s portfolio assets that enhance shareholder value as part of management’s ongoing review of strategic alternatives in the current market conditions. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by forward-looking statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to, the risk that the Company will not be able to identify and complete one or more transactions involving the Company’s portfolio assets that enhance shareholder value as part of management’s ongoing review of strategic alternatives in the current market conditions. Although CopperBank has attempted to identify important factors that could cause actual actions, events or results to differ materially from forward-looking statements, there may be other factors that cause actions, events or results not to be as anticipated, estimated or intended. There can be no assurance that forward-looking statements will prove to be accurate, as actual results and future events could differ materially from those anticipated by such forward-looking statements. Accordingly, readers should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.
