Gabriella's Kitchen Announces Joint Venture with Eximius Coffee LLC to Introduce Cannabis and CBD-Infused Ready to Drink Cold Brew Coffee and Pods

CALGARY, ALBERTA and SANTA ROSA, CALIFORNIA – FEBRUARY 19, 2019 – Gabriella's Kitchen Inc. ("GABY" or the "Company") (CSE: GABY), an innovative and leading-edge cannabis wellness company, is pleased to announce a joint venture ("JV") with Eximius Coffee LLC ("Eximius") to launch a line of cannabis and CBD infused coffee beverages and infused single serve grounds suitable for steeping. Eximius is the third largest coffee importer in the U.S. with products sold in retail grocery stores throughout the U.S. under a variety of brand names, including Cappio™. The economics of the transaction will see an equal sharing of costs and revenues between the joint venture partners.

The cold brew coffee market is on a tear, growing 12% in volume and 14% in retail sales in 2017 according to Beverage Marketing Corp., New York.

The cannabis infused cold brew coffees will be manufactured at The Oil Plant ("TOP") GABY's licensed manufacturing facility in Santa Rosa, California using high grade quality oil extractions for which TOP has become known. TOP's oils and extracts became immortalized in the film, Weed the People, a documentary by Ricki Lake and Abby Epstein which tells the real-life experiences of families who used oil manufactured by TOP to treat their children's cancer, and realized amazing success. The cannabis-infused coffees will in turn be distributed to licensed retailers (also known as dispensaries) by Sonoma Pacific Distribution, a licensed distributor that is currently in the process of being acquired by GABY as announced in the Company's press release issued October 23, 2018.

The Hemp derived CBD infused cold brew coffee will be manufactured by Xtract Xperts using hemp CBD oil extracted in their facility in Oregon and will be launched into the mainstream market, as legally allowable, for distribution using GABY's relationships and infrastructure.

GABY and Eximius are concluding the logistics of infusing single serve coffee pods with cannabis and expect to be able to bring those to the licensed market very soon. This joint venture also encompasses the development, launch and distribution of similar products infused with CBD for the mainstream market.

According to a July 2018 report, which she authored, Mimi Bonnett, Director – Food And Drink, Food Service for Mintel International Group, Ltd. identified that "Millennials show strong category engagement, consuming a range of coffee products, and show strong interest in innovative offerings, including ready to drink coffees with new ingredients and added functionality". In the same report, Ms. Bonnett also stated that "...the $14.4 billion coffee market continues on a positive path in 2018, buoyed by a thriving ready-to-drink coffee segment and sustained growth in single-serve formats."

"This joint venture validates GABY's strategy. In 2018 we worked hard to build our infrastructure. In 2019 this infrastructure will serve as the catalyst to catapult our growth," said Margot Micallef, Founder & CEO of GABY. “We are honored that our first publicly-announced joint venture is with a family-owned company who shares our mission and vision and also believes that quality products enhance people’s quality of life.” she concluded.

“Eximius prides itself on staying at the forefront of what its customers seek,” said Carlos de Aldecoa, CEO and the third-generation family member to lead Eximius. “We know that cannabis and CBD is becoming an important part of our consumers’ wellness strategies and we are honored to be partnering with GABY, a mission-based, family-founded company in bringing enhanced cold brew beverages with unique characteristics and functionalities to market.”

“A key aspect of GABY’s strategy is to be a leader in normalizing cannabis and CBD consumption,” Margot Micallef, added. “We are heavily focussed on bringing high-quality products to market that consumers can incorporate into their day-to-day lives. We expect to continue bringing such products to market through our own innovation, acquisition or through excellent partnerships such as our JV with Eximius.”
