TORONTO, Feb 27, 2019 /CNW/ - High Hampton Holdings Corp. (CSE: HC) (FSE: 0HCN) ("High Hampton" or the "Company"), a cannabis branding and distribution company in the U.S. market, today announced the launch of three new cannabis edibles products to California dispensaries through its wholly owned subsidiary CALIGOLD.

CALIGOLD launches Sugar, Sauce and Live Resin cannabis concentrate products to dispensaries across California (CNW Group/High Hampton Holdings Corp.)

Known for its quality cannabis chocolates, CALIGOLD is making use of its brand by expanding into the concentrates market with CALIGOLD Live Resin, CALIGOLD Sugar and CALIGOLD Sauce.

CALIGOLD Sauce

This unique cannabis sauce, also known as high terpene full spectrum cannabis extract, is rich in THCA and results in a perfect blend of cannabinoids and terpenes. The terpenes give the product its smell and flavour while creating the so-called Entourage effect, which is a way to describe how cannabinoids and terpenes work together to create a therapeutic effect. Due to its high terpene levels the sauce is a favoured concentrate with customers.

CALIGOLD CBD Live Resin

The CBD Live Resin represents an alternative to the smoking of flower for CBD intake. These concentrates are made from cannabis flowers that were frozen immediately after harvest, preserving terpenes and resulting in the Resin retaining the plant's original flavour and freshness. The CALIGOLD CBD Live Resin has a 1:1 ratio of THC to CBD making it an ideal blend for those needing both cannabinoids. A 1:1 ratio produces a balanced effect the way nature intended.

CALIGOLD Sugar

CALIGOLD Sugar has a consistency similar to table sugar. It is a popular customer choice for those looking for a product that is higher in THC content and lighter in terpenes when compared to other concentrates.

Gary Latham, CEO of High Hampton Holdings, comments:

"With customers continuously looking for different ways to consume, we are very proud to be launching three new concentrate products as part of the well-known CALIGOLD brand. This expansion of our product portfolio adds topline revenue, and as more of our brands will come online in 2019, we will increase revenue generation and create sustainable value for our shareholders."

Daniel Hood, co-founder of CALIGOLD, adds:

"Launching this line of concentrates represents a seamless expansion from our cannabis-infused chocolate bars. We have perfected each concentrate in the lab using only the best quality ingredients and industry-leading processes. These products will be available in dispensaries across California, and additional innovative product launches are underway as well here at CALIGOLD."
