The Company has historically relied upon equity financings to satisfy its capital requirements and will initially continue to depend heavily upon equity capital to finance its activities. The Company has limited financial resources and has no assurance that additional funding will be available to it for future development of its projects, although the Company has been successful in the past in financing its activities through the sale of equity securities and loans from insiders. The ability of the Company to arrange additional financing in the future will depend, in part, on the prevailing capital market conditions and success in its projects.

There can be no assurance that continual fluctuations in the Company's share prices will not occur or that these fluctuations will not affect the ability of the Company to raise equity funding, and if at all, without causing a significant dilution to its existing shareholders. Any quoted market for the common shares may be subject to market trends generally, notwithstanding any potential success of the Company in creating revenue, cash flows or earnings.
