

Nextleaf Solutions Granted Mexican Patent and Signs Cannabis Extraction Agreement

VANCOUVER, B.C. - November 26, 2020 - Nextleaf Solutions Ltd. ("Nextleaf Solutions", "OILS", or the "Company") (CSE: OILS) (OTCQB: OILFF), Canada's most innovative cannabis extractor, is pleased to provide the following commercial and intellectual property update:

Cannabis Extraction Agreement with White Label Producer

The Company's wholly owned subsidiary Nextleaf Labs Ltd. ("Nextleaf Labs" or "Labs"), a Health Canada licensed standard processor, has entered into a Cannabis Extraction Agreement (the "Extraction Agreement") with a licensed producer in Ontario, which is a premium white label flower producer (the "Client").

Pursuant to the Extraction Agreement, the Client provides cannabis biomass to be processed into THC distillate by Nextleaf Labs. The extraction services may be paid in-kind, with Nextleaf Labs retaining a portion of the resulting bulk THC distillate. The initial term of the Agreement will end on the earlier of (a) 12 months, and (b) the date upon which 1,000 kilos of marijuana have been processed by Nextleaf Labs.

Nextleaf Labs wholesales THC and CBD oils through its Commercial Partners Program and provides cannabis extraction services. The Company's investment in intellectual property and its automated closed-loop extraction plant provides a clear competitive advantage supplying low-cost cannabinoid distillate.

"We are pleased to have the opportunity to support our distribution partner's cannabis 2.0 product launches across Canada by supplying high-purity distillate," stated Nextleaf CFO, Charles Ackerman.

Nextleaf Receives Mexican Patent for its Foundational Process

The Mexican Institute of Industrial Property has granted OILS a patent for the Company's foundational process for producing high-purity cannabinoid distillate.

On September 19, 2020 the Mexican Senate approved a comprehensive adult-use marijuana legalization bill. The pending law requires President Andrés Manuel López Obrador signing the bill into law, which will make Mexico the third country to legalize adult-use cannabis, following Canada and Uruguay. Once signed, Mexico will become the largest legal cannabis market in the world, based on population.

Nextleaf owns the second largest patent portfolio of any cannabis company, and has been issued patents in Canada, the United States, Israel, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, Colombia, South Africa, the U.K. and across Europe.

“This latest patent validates our technology and further reinforces our vision of developing intellectual property that improves CBD and THC oil economics globally,” said Paul Pedersen, CEO of Nextleaf Solutions.

Annual General Meeting

With the ongoing developments of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Company has postponed its 2020 Annual General Meeting of shareholders to spring 2021. Nextleaf will provide further updates respecting the Company’s AGM in due course.
