VSBLTY Provides Update on Cease Trade Order and Financial Filings

Philadelphia, PA. May 6, 2026 — VSBLTY Groupe Technologies Corp. (CSE:VSBY OTC:VSBGF) (“the Company”) announces that it is currently subject to a cease trade order issued by the British Columbia Securities Commission due to a delay in filing its required financial statements, management’s discussion and analysis, and related certifications for the period ended December 31, 2025.

The Company acknowledges the importance of timely and transparent financial reporting and regrets the delay in completing its filings so soon after the previous trading halt. The delay is primarily attributable to the change in auditors and the onboarding of a new firm.

The Company is actively working with its auditors to finalize the outstanding filings as soon as possible. At this time, the Company expects to complete and file the required documents shortly.

Upon completion of the filings, the Company intends to apply for a full revocation of the cease trade order. Until such time, the Company’s securities will remain halted from trading in Canada.

“The transition to a new audit firm created a temporary filing gap, and we take full responsibility for resolving it promptly. What I want shareholders to know is that this is a procedural matter – it does not reflect the state of the business. We have never had more commercial activity, more qualified pipeline, or more strategic clarity than we do today. We expect to be fully current and trading again within weeks”, “ stated Jay Hutton, Chief Executive Officer of VSBLTY.

The Company will provide further updates as material information becomes available.
