Not applicable for the month of April.

17. Discuss any trends which are likely to impact the Issuer including trends in the Issuer's market(s) or political/regulatory trends.

Natural resources exploration, development, production and processing involve a number of business risks, some of which are beyond the Issuer's control. These can be categorized as operational, financial and regulatory risks.

- Operational risks include finding and developing reserves economically, marketing production and services, product deliverability uncertainties, changing governmental law and regulation, hiring and retaining skilled employees and contractors and conducting operations in a cost effective and safe manner. The Issuer continuously monitors and responds to changes in these factors and adheres to all regulations governing its operations. Insurance may be maintained at levels consistent with prudent industry practices to minimize risks, but the Issuer is not fully insured against all risks, nor are all such risks insurable.

- Financial risks include commodity prices, interest rates and the Canada/United States/Mexico exchange rates, all of which are beyond the Issuer's control.

- Inflation and other economic factors beyond the Issuer's control may cause an increase in costs and expenses, resulting in the Issuer being unable to complete its objectives with its currently available funds, if at all, which may have an adverse impact on the Issuer's operations.

- Regulatory risks include the possible delays in getting regulatory approval to the transactions that the Board of Directors believe to be in the best interest of the Issuer, and include increased fees for filings, the introduction of ever more complex reporting requirements the cost of which the Issuer must meet in order to acquire and maintain its exchange listing.

- The Issuer currently does not have adequate cash for planned exploration expenditures and general and administrative expenses in the next fiscal year and will require financing in the future to continue in business. There can be no assurance that such financing will be available or, if available, that it will be on reasonable terms. If financing is obtained by issuing common shares from treasury, control of the Issuer may change and investors may suffer additional dilution. To the extent financing is not available, lease payments, work commitments, rental payments and option payments, if any, may not be satisfied and could result in a loss of property ownership or earning opportunities for the Issuer.

- The Issuer's development and operational plans may also be affected by the unforeseen changing environment in global trade conditions and trade policies like tariffs, trade protectionism and trade restrictions. The Issuer continues to assess and review the potential impact of these factors to mitigate adverse effects on its development plans arising from economic uncertainties and evolving geopolitical environment.

- Military actions in the Middle East have increased global economic uncertainties, particularly energy prices, supply chain instability and market volatility. Although the Issuer does not have operations or exposure in the region, prolonged conflict may affect commodity prices, transportation costs, investor sentiment and cost of capital. The war may also affect future operating costs, demand and commodity price volatility. At this time, management is monitoring the situation closely but cannot reasonable estimate the full financial impact of these developments on the Issuer's operations and financial position.

Further trends and risks which are likely to impact the Issuer are detailed in the Issuer's consolidated financial statements and management discussion and analysis, which can be found under the Issuer's profile on http://www.sedarplus.ca/.
