Highlights

- ATMY has contracted GEMTEC Consulting Engineers and Scientists - a Fredericton based Environmental and Permitting consulting company to develop a “Roadmap to Permitting” including a Path and Timeline for the Bald Hill Antimony Project
- Initial consultations and meetings with officials of the New Brunswick Government have begun.
- GEMTEC will be conducting Baseline Environmental Surveys of the Bald Hill area starting in the spring and has initiated “Desktop” investigations to identify areas for attention.
- ATMY has held meetings with officials of the New Brunswick and Federal Governments including the Local Municipal Council to explain the project and address any preliminary questions. In addition, ATMY has met with the Department of Indigenous Affairs (DIA) to identify Indigenous groups with interest in the area.
- ATMY and Gemtec have held meetings with the Technical Review Committee (TRC) responsible for the approval of permit applications to ascertain responsibilities and concerns so that these can be addressed early in the development of the Environmental Assessment (EIA).

ATMY believes that the early engagement of provincial government and local municipalities is essential in the seamless development of the Bald Hill Antimony Project. The responsible development of the project will be aided by discussions with various stakeholders early in the process. ATMY has contracted a local experienced group - GEMTEC Consulting Engineers and Scientists (“GEMTEC”) to assist in the process.

April 24, 2026, - Antimony Resources Corp. (CSE: ATMY) (OTCQB: ATMYF) (FSE: K8J0) (the “Company” or “Antimony Resources” or “ATMY”) is pleased to announce that it has received assay results for the final drill hole in the 2025 Program - Drill Hole BH-25-34. The drill hole intersected high-grade antimony- bearing stibnite mineralization.

The 3-D Mineralization Model for the Bald Hill Main Zone has been updated with the drilling completed in 2025.

Highlights-

- Drill Hole BH-25-34 returned antimony assays of 4.38% antimony (Sb) over 7.05 meters (m) including 9.76% Sb over 3.15 meters
- Drill Hole BH-25-34 has extended the antimony-bearing stibnite mineralization of the Main Zone to the north and to depth.
- An updated 3D Model generated longitudinal section showing trends of higher-grade antimony assays.

- The 2025 drilling program totaled over 8,000 meters and identified significant expansion of the potential of the Main Zone to the north and at depth.

Results

Drill-hole BH-25-34 intersected 4.38% Antimony (Sb) over 7.05 meters (m) from 276.6 to 283.65 m depth, including 9.76% Sb over 3.15m from 280.5 to 283.65 m. This drill hole was testing the northern extension of the Main Zone.

Including						9.76% Sb/3.15 meters

The 2025 Program, which totaled over 8,000 meters, was focused on expanding the size of the Bald Hill Main Zone. The drill hole locations were focused on defining the zone along strike and to depth. In total 34 drill holes were completed in the program, and the mineralization was traced for a distance of over 600 meters in a NNW-SSE direction and was intersected to a depth of 400 meters.

April 30, 2026, - Antimony Resources Corp. (CSE: ATMY) (OTCQB: ATMYF) (FSE: K8J0) (the "Company" or "Antimony Resources" or "ATMY") is pleased to announce that it has received assay results from more than 550 soil samples collected on the Second Run Claim Block (# 11966) located approximately 3 kilometers south of the Bald Hill Deposit. The Second Run Claim block was acquired by staking in 2025 to cover the suspected southern extension of the Bald Hill Deposit.

These highly anomalous soil results could indicate new areas of antimony mineralization on the Bald Hill Property. Interpretation of Lidar and topographic images in covering the area suggests that these anomalies may be related to interpreted fault zones.

Highlights-

- Soil results indicate anomalous antimony (Sb) concentrations up to 40 times background in two areas with values of over 450 ppm Sb.
- The anomaly is not fully constrained and will require further investigation.
- Other area of weakly to moderately anomalous values for antimony are present.
- Interpretation of the Lidar images and topography in the area suggest that the anomalies are related to interpreted structures.
- These are areas previously unexplored for antimony.
- Access to examine the anomalous area is easy and further sampling and prospecting will take place in early May.
