The following are summaries of news releases of the Issuer released during the month. For complete details all news releases of the Issuer are available on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

On September 5, 2018, the Issuer announced that it became a member of the 8020 Connect Inc., ("8020 Connect"), investor community and invited all shareholders and stakeholders to join the Global UAV portal on 8020 Connect.

Through the 8020 platform, Global UAV will engage with open lines of communication to ensure each shareholder and interested investor can stay up to date with corporate developments as well as have an opportunity to be engaged through a social media portal. The interactive structure of the portal provides for an opportunity for shareholders to become a part of the communication process and support the development of the Company's investor audience. 8020 Connect actively ensures timely and regulatory compliant information dissemination while providing one-stop access to company executives, news, and educational materials.

8020 Connect is the first social media platform directly connecting existing and potential investors to the Executive Management teams of the savviest publicly traded companies.

On September 17, 2018, the Issuer announced that Transport Canada had authorized Global UAV's wholly owned subsidiary Pioneer Aerial Surveys Ltd. ("Pioneer Aerial") to conduct Beyond Visual Line of Sight ("BVLOS") operations with the NOVAerial Procyon 800E at the Unmanned Aerial Systems ("UAS") test range located in Foremost, Alberta.

Pioneer Aerial has been issued a Special Flight Operating Certificate ("SFOC") by Transport Canada, which allows for BVLOS flights at the Foremost UAV Range in Alberta, Canada. The SFOC allows Pioneer Aerial to demonstrate delivery of payloads with the Procyon 800E, in addition to research and development flights, such as radio signal strength testing. The BVLOS flight test plans will align the Company to apply for Transport Canada pilot project approval for future flights and operations in unrestricted airspace.

The SFOC was granted to Pioneer Aerial after a strict review and analysis conducted by Transport Canada on the systems, crew qualifications, flight safety manuals, and other presented information. Global UAV is very pleased that Pioneer Aerial passed such a strict review which validates their current operating practices. Strong safety practices combined with Pioneer Aerial's expertise in geophysical surveying are critical to the company's successful operations around the globe in various regulatory environments and for multi-national mining organizations with strict safety standards.

"The first step to being able to conduct routine BVLOS operations in non-segregated airspace in Canada and the United States is to prove the capabilities of a UAS at a test range. Transport Canada's approval of these operations with the Procyon 800E validates the diligence of the Global UAV group of companies in developing safe and efficient operating protocols, and the design and manufacturing standard of the Procyon 800E. Being able to conduct BVLOS operations will open up market verticals previously considered not economic for UAS, especially public safety and linear asset management," stated Michael Burns, CEO, Global UAV Technologies Ltd.

On September 20, 2018, the Issuer announced that its wholly owned subsidiary, Pioneer Aerial Surveys Ltd. ("Pioneer Aerial") had secured a contract with Axiom Group of Companies Ltd. ("Axiom Group") for a high-resolution UAV-MAGTM survey in Republic of the Sudan, marking the expansion of Global UAV's Service Division into Africa.

The survey area is in a remote region of Northern Sudan and will be flown for Axiom Group's Exploration division, a repeat customer whom Pioneer Aerial has previously worked with in both Canada and the United States.

"Pioneer Aerial was selected for this project due to their competitive pricing, extensive international field experience, high quality data and their ability to successfully complete surveys in challenging environments." Stated Doug Engdahl, CEO of Axiom Group.

"We are excited to perform our first African survey for the Axiom Group, a customer we've previously collected data for in North America. At Pioneer we have a strong ability and experience to perform surveys in remote locations with technical challenges other competitors struggle to overcome." stated Peter Dueck, President of Pioneer Aerial.

Michael Burns, CEO and Director of Global UAV added, "Africa is a strategic region to expand into and it reflects our aggressive growth strategy as an industry leader of UAV solutions around the globe. Serving our repeat customers is proof we are competitively priced and provide the survey solutions our clients want."
