

ATMOFIZER PROVIDES CORPORATE UPDATE ON FIRST QUARTER REPORTING AND CLEAN AIR TECHNOLOGY

May 31, 2022, Vancouver, British Columbia – Atmofizer Technologies Inc. (the “Company” or “Atmofizer”) (CSE: ATMO) (Frankfurt: J3K) (OTCQB: ATMFF) is pleased to announce a corporate update on its clean air technology.

Olivier Centner, CEO of Atmofizer stated, “I’m extremely proud of the hard work we achieved this quarter across all departments. With COVID-19 almost behind us, the fear of airborne transmission of ultra-fine particles and the associated health risks remains and will not be forgotten. The importance of clean air at home and at work is front of mind for governments and the public, and we have seen a wave of new clean air regulations.

Atmofizer is well positioned as a new and innovative technology to bring a proven technology to the market and capitalize on the opportunity.

Our science team continues to make significant advancements to prove and productize our technology to achieve our ultimate goal of delivering cleaner air, energy savings and improved efficiency. We are doing this by expanding beyond our appliance business and into the multi-billion dollar HVAC industry.

Our commercial team, now led by our President and Chief Commercial Officer Whit Pepper, announced on May 26, 2022 that they have secured another significant distribution partner. Safeware Inc. is a leader in safety equipment that supplies the public sector and educational organizations in North America.

In advance of our launch in the HVAC industry, the team has developed strong relationships with HVAC distribution partners. We have achieved our asset light objective of developing new clean technology and licensing or partnering with industry leaders to scale faster and capital efficiently.

Despite challenging supply chain and market conditions, our operations and finance departments have successfully delivered appliance inventory over the quarter and our cash balance position is stronger.

With a strong team and clear mission I am extremely proud of our quarter despite a challenging global climate.”
