

BITRUSH CORP.: ANOON SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASED CURRENCY TRADING VOLUME IN OCTOBER 2016

NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION IN THE UNITED STATES OR TO US NEWSWIRES

TORONTO, ONTARIO, November 2nd, 2016 – BitRush Corp. (“BitRush” or the “Corporation”) is pleased to announce that its payment services subsidiary ANOON Ltd significantly advanced its operations and services in October 2016. As already announced previously, ANOON successfully finished the limited beta-testing with its cryptocurrency-powered VISA debit card mid-October 2016 and started to sell and deliver its branded debit card to customers worldwide. Customer can buy a plastic VISA debit card for USD 19 from ANOON. Q4 2016 will become the first quarter with all existing payment and trading services in full operational mode.

ANOON recorded significant growth in its currency exchange business. Along with some new currency trading features the Foreign Exchange Trading Revenue Volume (exchanging cryptocurrencies for FIAT money and vice versa) increased from around USD 13,000 in total for Q3 2016 (July to September 2016) to more than USD 43,000 in October 2016.

The exchange of currencies is one of the core features of ANOON as each debit card transaction (i.e. spending money in FIAT money online, offline or at ATMs) is usually associated with a currency exchange transaction, changing units of cryptocurrencies into real money for clearing purposes. Thus, the growth of the currency exchange volume will be driven by the debit card business.

ANOON customers can trade cryptocurrencies in their ANOON Wallet with real-time exchange rates. The ANOON treasury has integrated real-time exchange rates from several large exchanges. The successful integration of PayPal and thus the possibility to pay with a PayPal account, bank account and credit card has been appreciated by ANOON customers.
