Service	Monthly Fee	Description
Trading <sup>12</sup>	L1 $800 CAD/USD L2 $1,200 CAD/USD	Using CSE data to generate orders
Non-trading <sup>13</sup> , including analysis <sup>14</sup>	L1 $300 CAD/USD L2 $500 CAD/USD	Using CSE data for non-trading functions, including but not limited to analysis related usage, creation of derived data <sup>15</sup> or indices, intra-day storage of CSE feed data etc. No double charges for services in this category.

8. Non-display means the data is used by systems to add or create value or perform functions as opposed to or in addition to being displayed for users. This use of the data can occur using the same feed that might also be used for display data in which case these fees would be applicable in addition to any display fees.
9. Non-display fees apply equally to feed data that is delivered direct (from CSE) or from a 3rd party (that distributes CSE feed data)
10. Non-display fees do not apply to use cases that are solely to comply with regulatory obligations such as OPR, regulatory reporting etc.
11. Non-display fees vary based on the way the data is used. The same feed data received direct or indirect may be utilized in more than one non-display use case in which case the fees for all applicable use cases apply.
12. Trading means any application of the data that generates orders in an automated or semi-automated manner.
13. Non-trading means any other non-display use of the data that does not qualify as Trading.
14. Analysis means the use of real-time Market Data for any automated analysis:
- that may lead to or contribute to purchases, sales, or other trading decisions,
  - to determine or monitor pre or post trade risk,
  - to determine or monitor margin availability or buying power,
15. Derived data means the creation of, and the display or distribution of data derived from feed data that:
- is not the same as the feed data,
  - is not a facsimile of the feed data,
  - and that could not be reverse engineered to produce the feed data.
- Unless all three criteria are met, the data is not considered to be derived and the appropriate display and/or non-display fees would be applicable to the recipient of the feed data as well as any recipients of the distributed data.
