“Onsite energy systems, like solar and energy storage, can offer strong, lasting cost savings for customers across the US. Just like Amazon offers a superior online shopping experience and TurboTax simplifies accounting, our online process simplifies the solar adoption journey for US enterprises. Users get to evaluate savings potential and customize financing options to ensure clean energy objectives are achieved on their preferred terms, while working with one reliable partner” , said Oleg Popovsky, Braggawatt’s Chief Customer Officer.
