NEWS RELEASE

FUTURE FARM AND YORKVILLE AGREE TO EXTEND TERM OF DEBENTURES

Extension illustrates confidence in Company's focus on product manufacturing

May 21, 2020 – Vancouver, British Columbia - Future Farm Technologies Inc. (the “Company,” “Future Farm” or “FFT”) (CSE: FFT) (OTCQB: FFRMF) is pleased to announce that Yorkville Advisors Global, LP (“Yorkville”) recently agreed to extend by six months the due dates of two debentures that were set to expire on May 17, 2020.

“Yorkville continues to be a very supportive partner for our endeavors,” says Bill Gildea, Future Farm’s CEO. “This extension is a vote of confidence in Future Farm’s core strategy of becoming a leading supplier of pharma-grade health and wellness products, including those made from hemp.”

With respect to the Company’s core health and wellness business, the challenges posed by COVID-19 have increased demand for health and wellness products, for example, hand sanitizer. Future Farm is therefore actively pursuing opportunities to help address needs created by the pandemic with products targeted to that demand.

With respect to the extensions, the Company and Yorkville agreed to amend two Secured Convertible Debentures. One Debenture is in the Principal Amount of US$1,851,163, and the other Debenture is in the principal amount of US$400,000. Both Debentures had due dates of May 17, 2020, or could be converted into Common Shares of the Company at a price of C$0.14 per share. The parties agreed to the due dates of both Debentures to November 17, 2020 and to set the conversion price at C$0.05, which is a premium to the current market price.
