As previously announced on August 17, 2020 regarding the technology, facilitating near real-time loading of funds to XTM mobile wallets for purchases, XTM is expanding its technology to allow Today Mobile wallet holders to purchase, transfer and redeem cryptocurrency all within their mobile wallets.

With the news earlier this week surrounding Tesla's filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission purchasing $1.5B in Bitcoin and the Mastercard announcement that this year it will start supporting select cryptocurrencies directly on its network, we felt the time was right to expand our offerings," said Marilyn Schaffer, CEO, XTM. "Our users are asking for further crypto options and functionality. Our plan is to enable our mobile wallet users to move funds, in near real-time, between accounts."
