2. Provide a general overview and discussion of the activities of management.

The Issuer has a 100% interest in the EVI project, a silica sand occurrence located northeast of Harrison Lake, B.C. The claims cover a total of approximately 605 hectares and earlier analytical work of samples has indicated a relatively high grade for purity and consistency of product with no deleterious contaminants. Just east of the property is situated another silica sand deposit which has been in commercial production for several years. Marketing options for the product may include the use for sand bags, hydraulic fracturing, filtration, and upgrading the product for potential solar and microchip electronic manufacturing uses.

The Issuer negotiated terms to acquire and develop the “Northern Silica” project, a silica occurrence located East of Prince George, B.C. The company expects to acquire a 100% interest from the “Northern Silica” Syndicate by the issuance of 7.5 million shares. In addition there will be up to a 5% production royalty payable.

The claims cover a total of almost 460 hectares and earlier analytical work of samples have shown that the quartzite is very pure, massive and homogeneous. It is composed of extremely well-rounded and well-sorted quartz grains, averaging 0.5 millimetre in diameter, which are cemented by silica. With the appearance of high SiO₂ the property may be suited for production of ferrosilicon and silicon metal. With the extremely well-rounded and large grain quartz, it may also be suited for Frac Sand. Additional processing and some further work will be required to determine the proper use.

Management sees significant opportunities in developing its silica resource for global markets and in particular with various business development opportunities in the Greater China, Asia and Pan Pacific regions. The company will be looking to build up its capital and financial position in the near term, and will be exploring options with various financial instruments to deliver on the profit potential.

During November 2017 management was involved extensively in completing its annual audited financial statements and first quarter reports.

During December 2017 management was involved in handling the financing announced on December 15th, 2017. Management was also involved in negotiating the definitive agreements with the two outstanding LOIs.
