Scio Oregon Hemp Project

On May 17, 2019 the Company, through its subsidiary Covered Bridge Acres Ltd. (CBA), entered into an agreement with Richardson Gap Farm LLC (RGF) to extract cannabinoids and produce distillate from the hemp biomass produced at the Company's Scio, Oregon hemp farm.

Key reasons for choosing RGF – Management feels strongly that it is important to support the development of the hemp industry in Oregon and the local Scio community, the excellent quality of the product RGF produces, as well as the proximity to the CBA farm. Working with a local extraction company that is only 5 miles away, reduces transport costs and the associated carbon footprint, and enables CBA management to easily oversee the extraction process.

The CBD distillate produced under the contract will be split on a 55/45 basis, with 55% going to CBA. Based on the results from a recent test run by RGF, CBA's 55% share of the distillate is expected to be 400 to 500 kg. CBA is currently selling distillate produced from earlier test extraction runs for US$4,000 to US$5,000 per kg. The biomass is delivered to RGF in batches as required for processing. The distillate produced under this agreement will be delivered to CBA in batches as it's completed so that CBA can sell it on an ongoing basis.

RGF was also delivered 16 kg of CBD crude oil produced from the various test runs with other processors. The crude is being processed into distillate for a 20% tolling fee and will be available for sale shortly.

Charles Larsen, President of Global Hemp commented, "While monetizing the biomass from our first hemp crop in Oregon has taken longer than we expected, we have now selected a processing partner that meets all the criteria we were looking for, with the added benefit of being one of our neighbours in Scio that is also contributing to the development of the hemp industry in the local community".

2019 Cultivation Preparation

For this year's cultivation, four different strains have been chosen to be grown from the latest high CBD industrial hemp varieties. Cloning to produce approximately 50,000 plants will populate the lower 35 acres of the Scio farm for the 2019 season. The goal is to reduce and/or eliminate the need for the acquisition of any additional seeds or clones from outside sources. The Scio team has now begun field preparation to ready the acreage for planting.

Selective logging of a small hillside section of land surrounding the upper field at the farm continued. Cleanup is now underway, with final settlement of log sales expected in June.

Expansion in 2019

The Company continues to evaluate a number of opportunities to expand the scope of its project in Oregon.

New Brunswick Hemp Project

Management continues to evaluate how best to expand the operation in New Brunswick. The key to the success of this project is the acquisition of cultivars with increased levels of cannabinoids (CBD). Discussions are underway with processors in the region for the 2019 season.
