The Issuer is a party to an action in California by a broker for a finder's fee allegedly owed in the amount of $400,000 plus attorneys' fees, in connection with the acquisition of La Vida Verde, Inc. by the Issuer. The Issuer is vigorously defending this action. The Issuer has an ongoing action in the Alberta Courts (the California action was discontinued) against its former CEO and President seeking damages of Cdn$2 million for breaches of contract, fiduciary duties, good faith, and acts of negligence in connection with the above noted broker's claim and other matters. The Issuer is also a party to an action by the former CEO and President of the Issuer claiming remedies for alleged oppression and misrepresentation, including return of 757,217.52 preferred shares of the Issuer that he agreed to cancel, or alternatively $20,066,264 in damages as compensation for his cancelled preferred shares. He also seeks a direction to pay on a promissory note ($741,497 as at June 30, 2019), and indemnification for credit card payments of which he is guarantor, plus legal fees. 16. Provide details of any changes in directors, officers or committee members.

17. Discuss any trends which are likely to impact the Issuer including trends in the Issuer's market(s) or political/regulatory trends.

While the use of cannabis appears to be substantially increasing at the state-legalized level in the United States, the status of Federal legalization of cannabis in is uncertain. On February 14, 2019, William Barr was confirmed by the U.S. Senate as the next Attorney General. On January 15, 2019, during his confirmation hearing, Mr. Barr indicated that he personally believes cannabis should remain illegal but he also stated that if confirmed, he would not "go after companies that have relied on the 2013 Cole Memorandum and that his approach with regard to federal cannabis law enforcement would be "not to upset settled expectations." Mr. Barr's approach to cannabis federal law enforcement may prove less aggressive than Attorney General Session's get-tough on cannabis stance and could reduce the uncertainty stemming from Attorney General Session's tenure. However, Mr. Barr has made it clear that he does not support federal legalization and until he begins implementing these policies, considerable uncertainty remains.

Jeff Sessions he former U.S. Attorney General was publicly opposed to the use of cannabis and on January 4, 2018, rescinded the Cole Memorandum, stating it was unnecessary. The Cole Memorandum was a document formerly issued by the Attorney General's office (2013/2014) that gave guidance to prosecutors to focus their enforcement resources for marijuana offences on 8 priorities, including preventing distribution to minors, preventing revenue from going to organized crime and preventing impaired driving. It is likely that the States which have legalized marijuana for medical and/or recreational uses will fight any prohibition on the production, sale and use of cannabis, as they are receiving significant amounts of tax revenue in connection with these activities. The rescission of the Cole Memorandum introduced uncertainty to the market for the Issuer's products.

On December 20, 2018, the Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018 (the "2018 Farm Bill") was passed into law. Marked as genuinely historic for the cannabis industry, the passing of the 2018 Farm Bill has removed all confusion associated with "industrial hemp". While the Issuer has always utilized organically sourced US Dept. of Agriculture approved industrial hemp in its CBD products, "hemp", defined as "the plant Cannabis sativa L. and any part of that plant, including the seeds thereof and all derivatives, extracts, cannabinoids, isomers, acids, salts, and salts of isomers, whether growing or not, with a delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol concentration of not more than 0.3 percent on a dry weight basis," has now been officially removed from the Controlled Substances Act in the United States. While the Issuer is still assessing the various implications of the new law, the development is extremely positive for the Issuer and its future development plans in the U.S. and elsewhere.

The safety of CBD and cannabis related products will remain of paramount importance for the Issuer and will continue to be a focus for consumers and regulators alike. Regulation of the industry is expected to increase, including new regulations anticipated from the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA). On the date that the 2018 Farm Bill was signed into law, the FDA released a statement from then-Commissioner Scott Gottlieb reaffirming its position that products containing CBD may not be sold as food or dietary supplements, and the FDA has issued similar statements from time to time, including most recently on March 5, 2020. The FDA's position may create additional barriers to lawfully selling CBD and CBD-based products in the United States.

Despite these challenges and a general lack of access to banking, the cannabis industry has so far enjoyed access to capital markets. The situation is constantly evolving and there is a great degree of uncertainty over how matters will be settled, however, it is likely that these US states that have legalized cannabis will fight any prohibition on its use as they are receiving significant amounts of tax revenue from the sale of cannabis. See also Listing Statement dated July 9, 2020, for the year ended December 31, 2019.
