Liht Cannabis Corp. (CSE: LIHT) (OTCQX: LIHTF) or the “Company”) is extremely proud to announce that each of its cultivation facilities in Las Vegas, Nevada have now achieved three organically grown certifications from EnvirOrganic, Certified Kind and Clean Green. We have attained triple certification, a first in cannabis cultivation in the state, establishing industry leadership.

On February 22, 2019, the Company received its third certification from Clean Green Certified; a program modeled on existing national and international agricultural standards, ensuring environmentally clean and sustainable methods. Comprised of three parts: legal compliance, review of cultivation methods and agricultural crop inspection.

The Clean Green program allows this quality farmer to be distinguished from the rest – with a label that stands for legal compliance, consumer quality and environmental stewardship.

By practicing organic methodologies, we can produce premium product whilst leaving the smallest carbon footprint of any agricultural process. We are committed to the establishment and the long term health of our soil to ensure that our plants are nurtured to their highest potential.

On behalf of our shareholders, Liht wishes to acknowledge the commitment and efforts of our Las Vegas team who fulfilled our promise to provide organically grown cannabis products.

"This triple certification officially recognizes our commitment to human health and wellness through the production of organic cannabis and environmental stewardship.

I commend our team in Las Vegas for being committed to the organic cultivation methods like those employed in US Food Production. Consumers can purchase our product with confidence knowing 3 independent groups, each with their own rigorous standards, have evaluated all aspects of our operations.
