On March 8, 2019, the Issuer announced that it has formed a partnership with Ellementa, Inc., the fastest-growing global women's network focused on health, wellness, and cannabis. The parties will leverage each organization's educational content and data collection to better serve women across North America interested in the potential health benefits of cannabis. With 35% of women consumers using cannabis for medical reasons, Cannvas.Me data shows health and wellness issues are primary reasons why women explore cannabis as an alternative treatment.

The partnership between Cannvas and Ellementa positions the companies to delve deeper into data collected on their respective audiences to better understand and serve North American women who are exploring cannabis as a health and wellness option. Women are among the fastest-growing customer segments in the cannabis industry, accounting for approximately 31% of the U.S. market. In Canada, according to Cannvas.Me, more women than men are trying cannabis for the first time, nearly half of whom report exploring cannabis as a medical or therapeutic treatment.

Cannvas and Ellementa will share co-branded content on their respective platforms to enrich the cannabis education offered to their audiences. Ellementa will also be a featured partner in Cannvas For Her, a dedicated section of Cannvas.Me exploring women's health and wellness as it relates to cannabis. Original content for Cannabis For Her will be sourced jointly from Cannabis.Me and Ellementa. The companies are also expected to announce additional projects in the coming months.

As a leading women's cannabis wellness network, Ellementa aims to connect women to better information about cannabis and to products that can enhance their exploration of cannabis for a healthier and happier life.

About Ellementa

Ellementa is a global women's cannabis wellness network that connects women with trusted cannabis experts and brands. Co-founded by three women from the tech industry, Aliza Sherman, Melissa Pierce and Ashley Kingsley, Ellementa facilitates in-person Gatherings in communities across North America and offers online resources specifically geared towards health and wellness. On March 11, 2019, the Issuer announced the appointment of Dinesh Kandanchatha to its newly-formed AI, Technology and Data Advisory Board. Mr. Kandanchatha will act as lead and brings with him a wealth of knowledge and expertise in the technology sector as founder and former Chief Technology Officer of Patriot One Technologies (CVE:PAT) (OTCMKTS: PTOTF) (FRA:0PL), a concealed weapons detection system that promises a safer world.

Mr. Kandanchatha has over 20 years of experience in start-up and early-stage companies, having raised over $100M dollars translating into over $1B in shareholder value. He has overseen two IPOs, eight acquisitions and been part of many early stage companies. He is a founder and former President and CTO of Patriot One Technologies. Currently he is Chief Operating Officer of Macadamian Technologies one of the leading healthcare product consultancies in Canada. A seasoned investor and mentor, Mr. Kandanchatha holds both a bachelor's degree and MBA from the University of Ottawa, is a Top 40 under 40 winner, serves as a board member on multiple public and private organizations, and has been featured in the Canadian Business Journal's entrepreneur spotlight.

The newly-formed AI, Technology and Data Advisory Board will provide independent consultation and oversight for Cannabis Data, the Company's cannabis analytics platform providing AI-driven cannabis data and analytics to organizations looking to learn more about the audiences in the cannabis space. With the global legal cannabis market projected to reach a valuation of $27 billion dollars by 2020 and $146.5 billion by 2025, Cannabis Data is positioning itself as a leader in cannabis analytics delving deep into the consumer behaviours, purchasing patterns and industry trends shaping the global cannabis sector.

On March 13, 2019, the Issuer announced the newest addition to the Issuer's Medical Advisory Board, providing independent medical oversight and original content for the Cannabis.Me digital cannabis education platform. Aislin O'Hara joins the Board bringing with her a wealth of experience and expertise in engaging audiences of older adults 55+ years old and a vast network of partner organizations with whom she has worked closely over her career in the public sector.

A Certified Professional Consultant on Aging (CPCA), Ms. O'Hara spent 12 years supporting seniors' initiatives within the public sector, where she established herself as a trusted professional among seniors' services and support agencies. Among her recent positions was Project Lead - Customer Experience for the Toronto Transit Commission's Wheel-Trans program, whose customer base is vastly comprised of seniors with disabilities. In 2018, she founded O'Hara & Associates Consulting Inc. to provide advice and consultation to businesses and services on how to appropriately serve Canadian seniors and put them at the forefront of strategies and market growth plans.

Among her notable accomplishments, Ms. O'Hara helped develop the 2017 and 2018 Toronto Seniors Strategy and the Toronto HomeShare Pilot (in partnership with the National Initiative of Care for the Elderly). She maintains professional affiliations with a number of senior-focused organizations including the Age-Friendly Business Alliance, among others.

According to Statistics Canada, the number of Canadian seniors by 2021 is projected to exceed the number of children aged 14 and younger for the first time ever. By 2036, the number of seniors could reach between 9.9 and 10.9 million people. Research indicates seniors are turning to cannabis as another tool to better manage their health. However, while cannabis use among older adults continues to increase, education specific to their demographic has not caught up and remains hard to find and difficult to access. With the appointment of Ms. O'Hara, Cannabis is demonstrating its proactive approach in crafting and making available senior-centric cannabis education.

On March 26, 2019, the Issuer announced unprecedented growth of its Cannabis.Me (www.cannvas.me) digital cannabis education platform as more global users from over 80 countries and 1,100 cities turn to Cannabis.Me for credible and evidence-based cannabis education. With user growth exceeding expectations and the platform's global reach expanding at a rapid pace, Cannabis.Me is poised to become the household name for cannabis education all while increasing its unique dataset to paint a clearer picture of cannabis consumption across Canada.

Since the launch of Cannabis.Me in October, the educational platform has experienced a consistent month-to-month user growth of 30%, with a meteoric rise of 524% in March. The site is now on track to have over 4 million unique users accessing its free and unbiased cannabis education in 2019, with over 50 million views of Cannabis articles and courses before year's end.

This puts Cannabis on track to have over 90% of countries around the world engaging with its content before the end of 2019.

The average session duration for Cannabis.Me users has also increased month-to-month since the site's launch, up 10% each month in the past six months. With users spending an average of nearly 10 minutes on the site per visit.

On March 26, 2019 the Issuer also announced that it has issued a total of 38,000 common shares at a deemed price of $0.265 per common share to a service provider pursuant to a consulting agreement entered into with the service provider.

On March 28, 2019, the Issuer announced the appointment of Wesley Tulshi to its AI, Technology and Data Advisory Board. Mr. Tulshi is currently based in Silicon Valley and serves as Director, HoloLens HW Group at Microsoft, helping develop wearable mixed reality technology powered by artificial intelligence. He will support the Cannabis Data platform with his wide-ranging expertise and rich experience in technology, innovation and digital security.

A graduate of the University of Waterloo, Mr. Tulshi has held positions as an analyst with Greater Toronto Airports Authority and Deloitte. In 2006, he was recruited by Marvell Semiconductor to make the move to Silicon Valley and design component chips for the System-on-a-Chip (SoC) group, which aims to bring cost-effective Wifi/Bluetooth wireless solutions to the growing cell phone and consumer electronic industries. For several years, Mr. Tulshi has worked at Microsoft's Mountain View office as the Director of the HoloLens HW Group.

The Cannabis AI, Technology and Data Advisory Board provides independent consultation and oversight for Cannabis Data, the Company's cannabis analytics platform providing AI-driven cannabis data and analytics to organizations looking to learn more about the audiences in the cannabis space. With the global legal cannabis market projected to reach a valuation of $27 billion dollars by 2020 and $146.5 billion by 2025, Cannabis Data is positioning itself as a leader in cannabis analytics delving deep into the industry trends, consumer behaviours and pre-purchasing patterns shaping the global cannabis sector.

On March 28, 2019, the Issuer also announced that it has granted incentive stock options to purchase a total of 1,000,000 common shares at an exercise price of $0.275 per share for a period of five years to certain directors and officers in accordance with the provisions of its stock option plan.
