Metallurgical Research & Development

Lithium Extraction

Bonnie Claire

Phase 2 trials are underway. The company is working with equipment vendors to improve the economics of the final stage of the process, the purification of the lithium and magnesium coming out of the leached solution.

Other Lithium Initiatives

Hard Rock Extraction

Lepidolite and spodumene leaching trials are on-going. The first attempts have achieved total recuperation rates of 59% and 70% without any atmosphere control. Trials are currently underway with atmosphere control.

Pilot Plant

St-Georges management has partnered with an academic institution to design a pilot plant that will allow the company to test in an industrial setting its extractions processes for lithium, as well as its copper, nickel and iron extraction process research initiatives. The partners' plans are based on a governmental contribution in the form of a grant expected to cover the majority of the costs.
