St-Georges Market Place

As previously disclosed in a press release dated January 4, 2018 and in previous monthly reports, St-Georges is progressing in the software development of its decentralized market place platform for commodities. The company plans to initiate later this year the early tests of the platform and of the blockchain tracking software that will allow vertical integration with it;

ZeU Crypto Networks Inc.

ZeU Crypto Networks is a wholly owned subsidiary of St-Georges. The subsidiary was created to host all blockchain technology and smart contracts development and commercialization efforts.

St-Georges' management is actively working to deploy this technology in partnership with ZeU in the domain of mineral commodity tracking and trading. Significant software development efforts were conducted in the month of February in order to advance this platform that should allow mining and mineral related businesses to enroll later this year. All other applications for the ZeU/Tiande technology will be developed and deployed exclusively within ZeU following the final closing of the assets acquisition from Tiande.

On Jan 14, 2018, St-Georges announced that its subsidiary, ZeU Crypto Networks Inc. entered into a non-binding letter of intent to acquire all of the Blockchain and Smart Contract Technologies assets of Qingdao Tiande Technologies Inc., a Chinese private company.
