Marapharm Ventures Inc. announces the issuance of a cannabis license to a related company

Marapharm Ventures Inc. ("Marapharm") announces that Veritas Pharma Inc. "Veritas" has been issued, to its subsidiary, a dealer's license from Health Canada which allows it to possess, produce, analyze, sell, send, transport, import, export and deliver cannabis, hemp and related products. The license also allows for the production of cannabis liquid extracts which with an export permit can be sent to other parts of the world.

Marapharm holds a total of 6,100,000 common shares of Veritas (a public company trading on: CSE: VRT; OTC: VRTHF; FSE: 2VP) representing approximately 15% in the share capital of the issuer, and assuming the exercise of the company's total 11,500,000 warrants, Marapharm would hold a total of 17,600,000 common shares or approximately 32% of the issued and outstanding common shares of the issuer, Veritas Pharma Inc. Marapharm invested in the company on January 9, 2017, January 11, 2017, and October 19, 2017.

The securities were acquired for investment and synergy purposes.

"Veritas shares have increased significantly in value since we invested in the company. The dealer license Veritas now has is a very significant milestone!"

Veritas Pharma Inc. is a discovery and IP development company which advances the science behind medical cannabis. Veritas has also applied to Health Canada for a cultivation license. In addition, Veritas's team of 27 doctors, scientists and associates work tirelessly researching and testing strains of cannabis that control and reduce nausea. The growing number of patients undergoing chemotherapy and radiation is driving the market for anti-nausea medication. Transparency Market Research states that this market will reach a valuation of more than $2 billion within 2 years.

There is distinct synergy with Marapharm and Veritas to enhance our corporate and shareholder value. " Linda Sampson, Marapharm CEO.
