Tyler Hazelwood of Grasstown comments, "We have created a unique story driven by our love for motorcycles and cannabis with a community that extends throughout the Americas. We are ecstatic to be working with our new partner, PacRoots, and look forward to expanding and developing our reach with the Lords of Grasstown and Grasstown USA Brands. Our partners and followers in the USA and Canada have been incredibly supportive of our products, story and the organization, as we look to further proliferate the brands and the culture throughout North America".

Medicinal Cannabis and Crohn's Disease:

Tyler's passion for cannabis stems from his 20-year battle with Crohn's disease and accredits cannabis for his ability to defy what western medicine said was possible and avoiding major surgical procedures like colon removal.

Founder and Director of Lords of Gastown and Lords of Grasstown, Tyler Hazelwood comments, "Without Cannabis I would not be able to be a dedicated single father to my daughter, nor would I have been able to build these brands or ride my motorcycle across North America. Cannabis is without a doubt my biggest tool in managing Crohn's symptoms. I feel a sense of obligation to share my experiences and passion in hopes I can help others with IBD."

About Lords of Gastown:

Founded in 2011 and incorporated in 2013, Lords of Gastown is a lifestyle brand spawned in the Pacific Northwest and with a love for Harley-Davidson. Lords filled a gap in the Harley-Davidson street wear and apparel offerings and quickly landed on Brian Barnes of Barnes Harley-Davidson Canada. Barnes Harley-Davidson owns Canada's top three dealerships and was a perfect partner for Lords to grow in the community and open up wholesale partners across North America. Gathering attention and social following across the United States with a good following in California, Lords was invited to the Born Free Motorcycle Show in 2015, Born Free is California's largest and most influential custom motorcycle show and Lords was one of the first Canadian brands to be invited. This event opened doors for partnerships and collaboration with some of America's oldest and strongest motorcycle brands such as: Corbin, BMC, TBR, Simpson, Bell, Heatwave and Espinoza's Leather. Lords of Gastown has established 80-plus wholesale accounts across North America, totalling over 100 worldwide, including Switzerland, Mexico, Australia, Indonesia and Japan. This business has been complimented with a healthy e-commerce business shipping $2 million a year worldwide through www.lordsofgastown.com

About Lords of Grasstown:

Following the cult like success of Lords of Gastown Motorcycle Lifestyle Brand, comes Lords of Grasstown Cannabis Culture Brand. In 2013, the Grasstown Brand was launched as a passion project by Tyler Hazelwood with the focus on a collection of simple, clean, yet edgy street wear apparel and products including a CBD soap line with a nod to Fight Club. In 2015, partnering with BC Cannabis Genetics Guru JB, Grasstown brought some of Canada's highest testing medical cannabis strains into the fold. Grasstown has generated substantial local community and social media exposure with placement of its legendary Grasstown Lowrider Ice Cream Truck at Vancouver's 420 Events, meet and greet Granville street smoke out event with Yela Wolf, and and rock night at No5 orange with guest host MGK.
