Ms. Melanie Pump resigned from her role as Chief Financial Officer of the Issuer on August 13, 2021. She was a tremendous asset to the Issuer and will be sorely missed. We wish Melanie all the best as she moves on to another early-stage company to assist them in setting up their organization for growth. We are reviewing replacement CFO candidates currently.

On September 20, 2021, the Issuer announced that on September 15, 2021, it invested $300,000 into CodeZero Technologies Inc. (“CodeZero”), a Vancouver-based technology company. CodeZero issued a convertible promissory note in the amount of $300,000 to the Issuer (the “Note”). The Note is due on November 15, 2022 and provides for 6% annual interest rate. The Note is eligible to be converted into equity of CodeZero at a 20% discount to the next round of financing by CodeZero. The funds will be used by CodeZero’s team to invest in growth and further develop its tools to deploy and manage Kubernetes, which is an open-source container-orchestration system for automating computer application development, scaling and management. CodeZero is focused on tools for developers. The relatively new standard for cloud orchestration is called Kubernetes and while it is largely recognized as the de facto standard, most developers would rather not use it because of its current complexity. Tens of millions of developers rely on tens of thousands of DevOps engineers to run Kubernetes, which creates huge bottlenecks that affect all technologies using cloud tools, such as AI, ML, IoT and others. CodeZero believes that Kubernetes will not cross the chasm unless the majority of developers can use it. CodeZero enables all developers to deploy to Kubernetes clusters without having to learn Kubernetes, solving a very big and expensive problem.
