

Cascadia Blockchain Group Corporation

Appointment of CEO of Cascadia Presented to the President of Kazakhstan

VANCOUVER, B.C. – March 13, 2020 – Cascadia Blockchain Group Corp. (“Cascadia” or the “Company”) (CSE: CK) is pleased to announce that Yerbol Akhmetbekov has replaced Tilektes Adambekov as the regional Chief Executive Officer (“CEO”) of Eurasia Blockchain Fintech Group Limited (“EBFG”), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company.

Yerbol has served EBFG as the Chief Operating Officer (“COO”) since August 2019 and has been responsible for the system design of Eurasia Blockchain eXchange (“EBX”). Yerbol holds a PhD in Computer Science from Novosibirsk State University. Before joining EBFG Yerbol has served as a researcher at Novosibirsk Institute of Thermophysics, and as Laboratory head of Nazarbayev University Research and Innovation system.

Mr. Adambekov who served the Company and EBFG since 2018 will join Kazpost JSC, a government owned national postal operator in Kazakhstan, as an Executive Director. Mr. Adambekov said, “I am thankful for the opportunity and support from Cascadia and EBFG. I have learnt valuable experience in blockchain technology from the Company, which will allow me to implement blockchain and other technologies to better serve the government in the future. Meanwhile, I am confident in Yerbol’s ability to drive EBFG’s mission, strategy and continue growth.”

“We would like to thank Mr. Adambekov for his valuable contribution to the Company and EBFG in the last 2 years and we wish him all the best for his future role at Kazpost.” Danny Deng, the CEO of Cascadia, said. “The near-term goal is to obtain approval from the government to commence operation of EBX in a live environment and provide services to customers. With Yerbol’s track record, strong IT background, we are confident that he will be able to lead EBFG and launch EBX in the first half of 2020.”
