“(...) Hyperledger Composer Blockchain program has enabled me to acquire the experience to identify the needs for blockchain innovation at the core of my specialties of Artificial Intelligence and Big Data in relation with the healthcare industry. The major leap in ZeU technology advancement with respect to BigData on the Blockchain caught my attention and its acquisition of Vn3t, which was until then on my technology watchlist, intrigued me. Any serious commercially deployable Blockchain Healthcare solution will have to handle heavy load of Data and AI active algorithms on the chain while keeping access and clients’ files secured. What was years in the future is now here with ZeU Blockchain Protocol (...)” commented Dr. Xu.

“(...) as we were looking to add depth and first-tier healthcare industry experience to our team, Frances’ (Or should we say Dr. Xu?) integration to our brain pool couldn’t have been timed better at this stage of our development. Our push to deploy artificial intelligence routines on our protocol and our dapps is now within reach with a shorter timeline. We wish to welcome Frances to our team and we are thrilled to put her experience and wealth of contacts to good use immediately (...)”
