

Upco International Inc. announces the intent to enter into a Strategic Joint Venture with SixthContinent, merging Mobile Banking and Social Commerce expertise to benefit both parties

Vancouver, BC, November 27, 2018, Upco International Inc. (CSE: UPCO) (OTCQB: UCCPF) (Frankfurt: U06) ("Upco") is pleased to announce that it has signed an NDA with SixthContinent Inc. (SXC) and is actively finalizing a strategic Joint Venture Agreement governing private label co-branding of Upco's sophisticated e-wallet application, UpcoPay.

SixthContinent, with offices in San Francisco (CA) and Milan (Italy), is the largest international platform for Shopping Cards. The company has agreements with more than 3,000 leading brands (including Walmart, Apple, Amazon, Carrefour, IKEA, Adidas and Shell Oil), and a community of 400,000 users, and is fast becoming a major player in the expanding Social Commerce market, with a monthly growth of +20%. As a Social Commerce platform, it converts companies' advertising budgets into contributions for users' purchases. In this way, users gain Credits and Points on a daily basis into their e-Wallet, and through these, they can purchase additional digital shopping cards to pay for their on-line and in-store shopping.

Under the terms of the joint venture, the two companies will collaborate to merge the User Community of SixthContinent into UpcoPay, a robust, ledger-based system integrated with Upco's banking partner, E-money. The new system will be branded under SixthContinent, but "powered by Upco". The parties to the agreement will share in both the associated technology merger costs and the profits based on transaction volumes.

With this application in place, SixthContinent's large user community will benefit from an extended range of features and options, including the ability to transfer money, purchase goods via a debit card, or withdraw cash at an ATM machine.

Benefits to Upco under this agreement are correspondingly significant. Via this collaborative endeavor, Upco is gaining entry to the growing Social Commerce sector in concert with a major, well established player in that sector, and is able to contribute fundamentally through its in-house, custom-developed technology. Equally as important, Upco will benefit from the strength of SXC's growing user community and the numerous major brands with which it is associated.

This Joint Venture will draw on the synergy and expertise of both organizations to go live with the first release of the co-branded e-Wallet solution, currently scheduled for the end of the first quarter of 2019.

Mr. Andrea Pagani, Chairman of the Board for Upco International, commented: "This Joint Venture is a true expression of synergy between mobile banking and Social Commerce, and represents an excellent opportunity for both organizations. The business world is changing rapidly, and this joint venture positions Upco to benefit significantly from the enormous growth that is anticipated in both of these sectors. We are particularly gratified that Upco's technology, UpcoPay, provides the foundation for this endeavor, and that this will be recognized within the industry".

Upco's recently appointed Chief Operating Officer for both corporate divisions (Telecom and Applications), Gerben Borsje, added his appreciation for the opportunity, noting, "We are very proud to be collaborating with SixthContinent on this co-branding initiative, and we are also pleased to be able to showcase our technology and expertise. I'm looking forward to working closely on further initiatives and marketing strategies with our new partner via this joint venture".

Francesca Roveda, CEO of SixthContinent, comments on the deal as follows: "The joint venture with Upco International Inc. will make SXC even more valuable in the daily lives of its Users. Integrating Upco's mobile banking solutions and e-Wallets with the Social-Commerce features will provide our users with highly innovative options never allowed before on the market."
