TransCanna's first commercial batch of world class cannabis concentrates in collaboration with the Summit Boys available in stores this week

Vancouver, BC, July 28th, 2020 - TransCanna Holdings Inc. (CSE: TCAN: XETR: TH8) ("TransCanna" or the "Company") TransCanna announces that the first batch of its cannabis concentrate products that is being co-branded with award-winning product producer, the Summit Boys, will be available for purchase this week.

Lyfted Farms Inc. (a TransCanna subsidiary) is now supplying high-quality-cannabis 'trim' (a by-product of cannabis flower production) to the Summit Boys for processing into an already popular line of cannabis concentrates branded as 'Caviar.' These retail products now also include innovative packaging featuring a 'window' to showcase the superior color and texture of the concentrates.

Cannabis concentrates have a greater proportion of cannabinoids and terpenes when compared to natural cannabis flowers, and can increase the potency of cannabis flower. Demand for these concentrates are also the fastest-growing of any cannabis product in the California market (the largest Cannabis market globally.)

The Summit Boys are a well-known legacy recreational cannabis product producer with a cult-like following on Instagram of over 66,000 followers. In 2019, the Summit Boys earned over 14 Bay Area Cannabis Cup awards in several categories, including for Best Product and Hybrid Concentrate.

"The sale of these products is the first exciting step in our distribution plan to bring a higher-quality product to market by aligning with California's most reputable industry partners, said Bob Blink, TransCanna CEO, adding that consumers recognize the Summit Boys for their quality of product and processing superiority. This collaboration also increases our profit margin for each harvest by converting trim, which can be valued as low as USD $0.15 per gram, into a refined finished product that wholesales for USD $17.00 per gram."

"Our goal has always been to make the best tasting and smelling products that drive customers to come back for what we have to offer. Now that we are using even higher quality trim from Lyfted Farms we can't wait to see how our customers react," said Mike Larson, the Summit Boys CEO. "This is the best product that we've ever produced. Fire into the process equals fire out."
