

TOWER ONE PROVIDES CORPORATE UPDATE FROM COLOMBIA

VANCOUVER, BC, Canada – February 1, 2017 – Tower One Wireless Corp (CSE: TO) (OTC: PCFTF) (Frankfurt: A2AFT9) (the “Company”) announces that it has received a corporate update from its wholly owned subsidiary, Tower Three SAS (the “T3”), a South American telecommunications infrastructure developer. The company has built seven towers in Colombia and is currently working to expand the collocation of its existing tower portfolio. Collocation on a tower means that antennas from more than one telecom carrier will be deployed or mounted on a single tower. The company is now in advanced stage negotiations with a second telecom carrier to deploy its antennas on T3’s towers. Alex Ochoa, CEO, states: “Collocation in the tower business allows us to increase our income with limited incremental investment, thus increasing the ROI. In addition to that benefit, Tower One can transfer a discount to the cellular operators in the form of lower monthly rental payments, thereby strengthening our long-term business relationship.”

The Company was informed that T3’s eighth, ninth and tenth towers have completed the social development consultation process and are in the final stages of site acquisition, and expects to begin construction shortly once approval for these three final search rings is provided. The Company has also been informed that T3 has been awarded 14 building permits in the City of Baranquilla in preparation of the site acquisition for the previously announced 10 additional search rings (desired coordinates for additional towers) from a telecom carrier, where cellular coverage and capacity is weak or lacking. Alex Ochoa in closing states: “Tower One, being a public company provides benefits to both our investors and customers. Our customers benefit from multiple financing alternatives that we can now provide and our investors have the opportunity to invest in an industry that has limited entry points and alternatives. Today there are only a handful of tower infrastructure companies trading on a stock exchanges.”
