

VirtualArmour Appoints Todd Kannegieter as CFO

CENTENNIAL, Colo., April 30, 2018 -- VirtualArmour International Inc. (the "Company") (CSE:VAI) (3V3:F) (OTCQB:VTLR), a premier cybersecurity managed services provider, has appointed CEO Todd Kannegieter as chief financial officer, succeeding John Donaldson.

"We thank John for his important contributions during this high-growth stage of our development, and wish him the very best in his future endeavors," said company chairman Chris Blisard. "Todd's extensive financial experience and capabilities, as well as existing knowledge of our operations made him the ideal candidate to become CFO and assure a smooth transition."

Kannegieter was a co-founder of VirtualArmour and has been a director since its inception and has served as its CEO since 2015. His prior experience includes private equity funding of start-up telecommunications and Internet services companies, as well as strategic and financial planning, mergers and acquisitions, and managing finance and accounting activities for both domestic and international businesses in the telecommunications and Internet services sectors.

Kannegieter's more than three decades of finance and accounting experience includes serving as vice president of finance for Circadence Corporation. Prior to Circadence, Kannegieter served as a finance executive for a number of successful businesses, including Rivien Communications, a telecommunications company providing integrated voice and data applications which was later acquired by Allegiance Telecom. Earlier, he served at COMSAT International, a provider of satellite technology that was acquired by Lockheed Martin. Before COMSAT, he served as a finance executive for both Westel Cellular and US West MediaOne (now Comcast Cable), a global provider of communications. He also earlier served as executive director of finance, working the New Vector merger with Airtouch cellular.

Kannegieter began his career at KPMG Peat Marwick, where he served as an auditor on multi-national oil and gas, real estate and financial institution engagements. He holds a B.S. in Accounting from University of Wyoming.

Kannegieter has volunteered his time for several nonprofit organizations, including as co-founder, CFO and treasurer of Flagstaff Charter Academy, a K-8 school in Longmont, Colorado. He was instrumental in raising a $13.5 million bond for Flagstaff Academy's new school building.
