("Canpac") for the sale of the Langley Site, a five and a half acre agricultural property located in Langley, BC. Pursuant to the Agreement, Canpac purchased the property in consideration of $1,500,000 payable in the form of the issuance of 15,000,000 common shares at a deemed price of $0.10 per share. Furthermore, along with the acquisition, Canpac agreed to assume $912,517 in the Company's debt and long-term liabilities. The Company has assembled debt assignment agreements, signed by the creditors, assigning the liabilities to Canpac. Feel elected to distribute the shares in the form of a dividend to its stakeholders on a pro rata basis to shareholders of record on September 15, 2021.

As part of its financial planning, management intends to pursue further equity financing to meet its working capital requirements and is reasonably confident that it will be able to continue to fund the Company in this manner. The Company intends to work with a financial advisor to assist with raising funds to meet short term and long-term goals as well as to develop an ongoing long term plan to keep the company in operation until revenues are sufficient to support the operations. However, should the Company be unsuccessful in raising capital through equity financing, it may need to consider borrowing funds from one or more directors or shareholders. At this time, the Company has no plans to borrow money and there have been no promises or arrangements made to fund the Company in this manner.

As of the date of this discussion, the Company currently has three subsidiaries, Plenty-full Food Services Corporation, Be Good Plant Based Food Inc, and Black Sheep Vegan Cheese Company Corp.

RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Plant Growing, Warehousing and Processing Industry

The warehousing and food processing industry involves significant risks, which even a combination of careful evaluation, experience and knowledge may not eliminate. While the development of such facilities may result in substantial rewards, marketing will also play a significant role in developing the Company and its level of success. Major expenses may be required to establish the facilities to be accepted in the marketplace. It is impossible to ensure that the current facilities and market strategy planned by the Company will result in profitable commercial sales. Whether the Company will be commercially viable depends on a number of factors, some of which are the particular attributes of the industry the facilities is geared toward and the existing infrastructure, as well as competitors' strategies and market factors. Some of these factors are cyclical and government regulated, including regulations relating to agriculture and food processing procedures and protocols.

The exact effect of these factors cannot be accurately predicted, but the combination of these factors may result in the Company not receiving an adequate return on invested capital. Agriculture and food processing operations generally involve a high degree of risk. The Company's operations are subject to all the hazards and risks normally encountered in the public health sectors inherited in the agriculture and food processing industry. Although adequate precautions to minimize risk will be taken, operations are subject to hazards that are unforeseeable or beyond the company's control and their consequent liability.

Some of these risks include the following:

The Company is largely dependent on the success of constructing and marketing its warehousing and processing facilities and cannot be certain that its facilities will be successfully commercialized. The successful addition of food warehousing / processing facilities will provide additional There is no guarantee that it will ever have marketable facilities. There are risks in design, development and manufacture of agriculture and food warehousing / processing facilities which may have adverse effect on public's health.

If a significant portion of these development efforts are not successfully completed, required regulatory approvals are not obtained, or any approved facilities are not commercially successful, the company's business, financial condition, and results of operations may be materially harmed.

The Company's facilities may never achieve market acceptance even if the company obtains regulatory approvals.

The Company's activities are directed towards the warehousing and processing of food. Feel will need to expand its marketing and sales operations and establish business relations with other professional services providers and clients in a timely manner.

In order to meet their business objectives, Feel will have to ensure that its services are professional, reliable and cost-effective, and bring the expected return. There can be no assurance that the business and services of Feel will be accepted and recommended.

There can be no assurance that one or all of the employees of, and contractors engaged by, Feel will continue in the employ of, or in a consulting capacity to, Feel or that they will not set up competing businesses or accept positions with competitors. There is no guarantee that certain employees of, and contractors to, Feel who have access to confidential information will not disclose the confidential information.

Although the Company's activities are currently carried out in accordance with all applicable rules and regulations, no assurance can be given that new rules and regulations will not be enacted or that existing rules and regulations will not be applied in a manner which could limit or curtail development, production, manufacture, product claims, marketing or commercialization. Amendments to current laws and regulations governing operations and activities of the consumer health industry or more stringent implementation thereof could have a substantial adverse impact on the Company.

Uninsured Risks

Feel may carry insurance to protect against certain risks in such amounts as they consider adequate. Risks not insured against include key person insurance, as Feel will heavily rely on its officers.

Conflicts of Interest

Consequently, there exists the possibility for such directors to be in a position of conflict. Any decision made by such directors involving Feel will be made in accordance with their duties and obligations to deal fairly and in good faith with Feel and such other companies. In addition, such directors will declare, and refrain from voting on, any matter in which such directors may have a conflict of interest.

Negative Operating Cash Flows

As Feel is at the early stage startup stage, it may continue to have negative operating cash flows. Without the injection of further capital and the development of revenue streams from their businesses, Feel may continue to have negative operating cash flows until it can be sufficiently developed to commercialize.

Operating History and Expected Losses

Feel expects to make investments in order to develop their services, increase marketing efforts, and improve their operations. As a result, startup operating losses are expected and such losses may be greater than anticipated, which could have a significant effect on the long-term viability of Feel.

Risks Related as a Going Concern

The ability of Feel to each continue as a going concern is uncertain and dependent upon their ability to achieve profitable operations, obtain additional capital, and receive continued support from their shareholders. The outcome of these matters cannot be predicted at this time.

Should such claims be successful, plaintiffs could be awarded significant amounts of damages, which could exceed the limits of any liability insurance policies that may be held by Feel. There is no guarantee that Feel will be able to obtain, maintain in effect or increase any such insurance coverage on acceptable terms or at reasonable costs, or that such insurance will provide Feel with adequate protection against potential liability.

Coronavirus Global Pandemic Risk

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared a global pandemic related to the virus known as COVID-19. This contagious disease outbreak, which has continued to spread, and any related adverse public health developments, has adversely affected workforces, economies, and financial markets globally, potentially leading to an economic downturn. It has also disrupted the normal operations of many businesses, including the Company's. This outbreak could decrease spending, adversely affect demand for the Company's product and harm the Company's business and results of operations. It is not possible for the Company to predict the duration or magnitude of the adverse results of the outbreak and its effects on the Company's business or results of operations at this time.

With employees, partners and customers across multiple geographies, the Company's management continues to closely monitor developments surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic. The Company's focus is on the safety and well-being of its employees, customers, and partners, and is taking precautions to minimize the spread of COVID-19 in alignment with local government policies and national and international agency recommendations. In consideration of this, interim arrangements have been made to ensure the maintenance of the Company's core operations despite the temporary reassignment of certain sales and contracting personnel.
