DATA DEPOSIT BOX INC. APPOINTS ROB PUZZUOLI AS CHIEF TECHNOLOGY OFFICER

Data Deposit Box Inc. (the “Company”) (CSE: DDB, Frankfurt: 2DD), a global leader and provider of Small to Medium Business backup, recovery and disaster readiness cloud services, is pleased to announce the appointment of Rob Puzzuoli as Chief Technical Officer (CTO).

Mr. Puzzuoli brings 13 years of technology management and Chief Systems Architecture experience from ROBOLAK, a technology provider he founded in 2003. Over his 13 years, Rob focused on managing software development and system architecture teams guiding and mentoring junior and senior staff.

“As we enter into our next stage of growth, it is crucial that we focus on evolving our corporate infrastructure to accommodate increased demand and new service/product offerings. Rob is a strong technical leader who will play an integral role in the next chapter of Data Deposit Box and we are excited to welcome him as CTO to the senior management team. Rob’s primary mandate will be to focus his skill and attention on evolving our products and services.” said Troy Cheeseman, Data Deposit Box, President & COO

In his new role with Data Deposit Box Inc. Rob will work closely with the senior management team to create and manage the organizations strategy as well as direct, manage and mentor the Company’s development and support teams on a day-to-day basis.
