Just one year after officially launching the RESAAS Marketplace, the demand by companies who provide tools and services for real estate agents to participate in the Marketplace has increased substantially, allowing RESAAS to continue developing relationships with leading companies servicing real estate professionals.

“It’s been great to see the growth of the Marketplace program and the successful companies that are excited about contributing to it,” said Brianna MacNeil, Business Development Manager at RESAAS. “Our expansive roster of Partners, in combination with the launch of the new Marketplace website, has become an unparalleled experience for real estate agents looking to purchase not only technology products, but also luxury vehicles, office supplies and electronic devices.”

Furthermore, Juwai, Snap Flyers, MOO, Spacio Pro, Volkswagen of America and NAR Accelerator product, Guard Llama, have joined the Marketplace.

The suite, including Top Producer CRM, Market Snapshot and FiveStreet, is a valuable addition to the Marketplace. “We are excited to be joining the RESAAS community and extending our services to its network of more than 360,000 real estate agents and brokers around the world,” said Ryan Green, GM and VP of CRM Software Business at Move, Inc. “Aligning leading technology solutions like Top Producer CRM, Market Snapshot and FiveStreet with the forward-thinking, connected community of RESAAS is a strong natural fit, and we are pleased to be providing an even more competitive offering for our customers.”
