Redrock Trading Partners, LLC signs Fee Agreement with Qapta, Inc.

NEWS RELEASE

Redrock Trading Partners, LLC (Redrock), a United States FINRA broker dealer and ownership affiliated company of Armada Mercantile Ltd., has signed a fee agreement with Qapta, Inc. (Client). The Client, holds an exclusive license agreement in the Correlation Search Engine Technology (CSE) for the USA education marketplace. CSE utilizes "correlations" which are massive networks of associated "knowledge fragments" to "connect the dots" and establish relationships between terms, phrases, concepts or topics. The CSE - unlike any other search engine - works by analyzing the networks of knowledge fragments to identify the documents that made the most valuable contributions to the network - because those are the documents most relevant to the query. The CSE - unlike other search engines - does not use any similarity metric, link analysis, popularity (e.g., "everything celebrity"), or binary logic. The CSE - unlike other search engines - delivers results that mirror the asymmetry that exists in real world data. When the CSE connects the dots, the results make intuitive sense: enter "green tea", "life quality", "metastasize" and the CSE produces results relating to cancer; enter "cash", "terrorist", "charities" and the CSE produces results relating to money-laundering. For more information on the Client, visit <http://qapta.com>.

Under the terms of the fee agreement, Redrock will act as an 'introducing broker' on behalf of the Client to introduce a funding partner. If these introductions result in a successful business transaction i.e., funds provided to the Client from a Redrock funding partner, the Client will pay Redrock an introducing fee based on the total funding amount of the transaction.
