

Colba.Net Telecom Inc. Expands its IPTV Footprint in British Columbia

Montreal, Quebec--(Newsfile Corp. - January 30, 2013) - Colba.Net Telecom Inc. (CNSX: CB), a leading telecommunications company in Quebec, announced today the expansion of its new Internet Protocol Television (IPTV) service in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. This follows a recent decision by the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) approving the application by Colba.Net Telecom Inc. for a broadcasting regional license to operate a Class 1 terrestrial broadcasting distribution undertaking to serve the following communities: Burnaby, Chilliwack, Coquitlam, Courtenay/Comox/Powell River, Duncan, Kamloops, Kelowna, Langford, Nanaimo, New Westminster, Penticton, Prince George, Vancouver, Victoria and White Rock, and their surrounding areas, British Columbia.

This new IPTV service offers several high definition (HD) channels, including some of the most popular American and Canadian channels.

"Once again we are thrilled and proud to expand this new IPTV service in British Columbia. Our whole business model, corporate values and reputation are based upon offering the best possible products and services at unbeatable prices. We strongly believe that both the industry and consumers stand to greatly benefit from increasing competition in our fast growing industry sector. By offering IPTV service, Colba.Net is now a player in the big league of telecom providers and cable distributors" said Mr. Joseph Bassili, President and Chief Executive Officer of Colba.Net.

About Colba.Net
