Freeport Capital Inc. has finalized an agreement with Pivotal Payments, through its First Equity Strategy LLC subsidiary, to integrate the Pivotal Payments Gateway (PPG) with the hand-held HomeAtm devices. The HomeAtm devices can now be used with laptops, PCs and smartphones to accept swiped credit card payments. This allows First Equity Strategy to establish a presence a specialized markets such as delivery services, trade shows, direct selling, catalog sales and hospitality services where merchants have traditional had to accept "card-not-present" transactions. With the PPG now integrated into the HomeAtm device, merchant can accept "card present transactions" and benefit from substantial savings in processing fees.

"We are excited to announce this agreement with Pivotal Payments," said president Michael Tasillo. "We expect the integration of the PPG on our HomeAtm devices to provide significant benefits to a market segment that has to date limited processing options."

"Pivotal is pleased to be able to provide to First Equity Strategy our robust and low cost payment gateway," said Philip Fayer, president of Pivotal Payments. "We are certain it will be significant added value to both First Equity Strategy and the merchants it services."
