Glenbriar trading symbol changes from GBRT to GTI

CALGARY, AB – September 22, 2008 — Glenbriar Technologies Inc. announced that its trading symbol on CNQ has changed from GBRT to GTI effective September 19, 2008. This is part of an overall change being implemented to all CNQ stocks to accommodate a new trading platform. There may be limited access to trading quotes or history on some stock sites until these changes are fully implemented.

CNQ operates Pure Trading, a state-of-the-art trading environment for CNQ dealers to trade TSX-listed securities faster and cheaper than on the TSX. The CNQ is being migrated on to the same trading platform as Pure Trading, which is connected to about 95% of the investment firms in Canada. This will ensure that little or no development will be required for those dealers to access CNQ in their online services.
