

Glenbriar Teams with Tekhead to Replace Centrex at Scottsville Group

CALGARY, AB, October 4, 2006 — Glenbriar Technologies Inc. (CNQ: GBRT; Frankfurt: G1Q) today announced that it has teamed up with Tekhead.ca of Red Deer to replace a Centrex phone system with Glenbriar's Business VoIP Solution for the Scottsville Group of Red Deer, Alberta.

Scottsville Group is a family-oriented automotive sales and service company based in Red Deer, Alberta. Scottsville strives to provide an unrivalled customer and employee experience with a reputation for commitment and responsibility. Scottsville was seeking to connect Alberta's Best Mortgage (its mortgage company), its Quick Lube facility, and its three Red Deer dealerships – Kipp Scott Pontiac Buick Ltd., Gord Scott Nissan Inc. and Scott Kia – into a single integrated IP telephony system over multiple locations. They turned to their long term IT service provider, Tekhead.ca, for advice and direction.

“Our selection was based upon an exhaustive review of available alternatives,” noted Steve Booth, technology consultant for Tekhead.ca. “In the end, the Glenbriar Business VoIP Solution proved to be the winner in all categories. Now that it is installed, it has surpassed our expectations. We are pleased to be able to offer the competitive advantage of this technology to our client base.”

Glenbriar's Business VoIP Solution combines ShoreTel phones, switches and software with Cisco networking equipment to produce a truly superior deployment. This integration reduced the need for local trunks, provided single switchboard capability for five different companies over multiple sites, and enhanced Scottsville's business workflow. In addition, the ability to add additional sites in remote locations, enhance functionality for mobile and teleworkers, facilitate computer telephony integration, and cost reductions made the Glenbriar solution the optimal choice.

Scottsville Group obtained everything it sought in a robust system: 3 digit dialing between locations, direct in dialing for outside calls, key system functionality for parts and service departments using the new ShoreTel IP212k phones, overhead paging, night bell, and reduced trunk and long distance costs. Scottsville reduced to 1.5 receptionists for 5 companies, and eliminated the need for telephony engineers to manage their systems and do moves, adds and changes.

“The Glenbriar Business VoIP Solution combines the best VoIP and data technologies to deliver a superior solution for our clients,” noted Glenn Matheson, Chief Operating Officer for Glenbriar. “We are pleased to empower Tekhead.ca and the Scottsville Group with these exciting solutions.”
