There is a noticeable resurgence in mineral exploration and development and in particular, in those companies that carry on exploration activities in precious metals. However, certain trends that may impact the Issuer are:

- i. Exploration of mineral prospects involves a high degree of risk which even experience, knowledge and careful evaluation may not be able to avoid.
- ii. Governmental regulations, including those regulations governing the protection of the environment, taxes, labour standards, occupational health, waste disposal, mine safety and other matters, could have an adverse impact on the Issuer.
- iii. The economics of exploring and developing gold and precious metal mineral properties are affected by many factors including the prices of the commodities.
- iv. Exploration and development of mineral prospects require substantial capital. A drop in the availability of equity financings will likely impede spending.
- v. Due to global demand, prices of metals have appreciated significantly during the last few years. It is generally expected that the worldwide demand for metals will continue for the foreseeable future. Should this trend continue, it is expected that mineral prospects of merit will be more difficult and expensive to acquire and the services of technically competent people will be more difficult to obtain.
