Tulox Option Terminated

Vancouver, BC, November 29, 2013 – Newlox Gold Ventures Corp. (the “Company”) announces it has agreed with Amarc Resources Ltd. to terminate its option on the Tulox property having met its commitments to date and is returning the claims in accordance with the terms of the option agreement. Management determined the commitments for expenditures and share issuances due December 31, 2013 wouldn’t be achievable and is currently negotiating the acquisition of gold property assets in Latin America.

Newlox Gold Ventures Corp. is a gold exploration company whose primary focus since listing on CNSX is an option to acquire the Tulox property from Optionor, Amarc Resources Ltd. of the Hunter Dickenson Group. Due to market conditions financing for development stage drilling is limited and the company is moving its attention to alluvial property investment in Latin America.
