

General Wesley Clark Joins Alternate Health Corp. Board of Directors

PLANO, TX, April 10, 2017 /CNW/ - Alternate Health Corp. (CSE:AHG) (OTC:AHGIF) today announced that General Wesley K. Clark, former NATO Supreme Allied Commander, has joined the Board of Directors of Alternate Health, a diverse healthcare company that uses its expertise in technology and data analytics to revolutionize patient care and service delivery. General Clark will assist and advocate for the company in its work to develop new treatments for patients suffering from post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).

Dr. Jamison Feramisco, CEO of Alternate Health said: "We are honoured that General Clark has joined the Board. As one of our country's most decorated public servants and a champion of the health of our veterans, General Clark will bring critical energy and resources to Alternate Health's work."

General Clark said: "Over my career, I've seen thousands of veterans return home each year with medical issues and ailments ranging from acute injuries to ongoing PTSD. We must explore innovative options for treating these and other debilitating conditions, and Alternate Health is on the frontlines of this effort. I'm looking forward to working with them to address veterans conditions and improve the lives of many Americans and international citizens."

General Clark served a distinguished career in the U.S. Army and rose to a four-star general as NATO's Supreme Allied Commander. Since retiring from the military in 2000, he has served in several capacities in the private sector and has chaired several public and private companies in the energy, banking and business services field. In addition to being a noted author and political commentator, he graduated first in his class at West Point and completed degrees in Philosophy, Politics and Economics at Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar. Among his awards are the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the Silver Star, Purple Heart and honorary knighthoods from the United Kingdom and the Netherlands.
