Mr. Mehdi Azodi, President and CEO stated, "The Company is pleased to be listed on the Canadian Securities Exchange. We will focus our interests and investments in the Cannabis industry, broadly defined, with emphasis on high growth, well-defined strategies, strong execution, low capital costs, and continuing to maintain high levels of corporate governance."

About the Company

The Company is establishing a diversified portfolio of investments and interests with initial focus on organic fertilizers and resource assets. ICP Organics', a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, focal point is research, development and investment in the fertilizer and medical cannabis sectors, with emphasis on organic fertilizers, pesticide-free products, and specialty cannabis-related consumer product branding and retail sales. Organic products provide value-enhancing opportunities to medical cannabis and other agricultural growers allowing the producers to sell products at premium prices. The introduction of blockchain technology to the cannabis industry will form the foundation for secure operational processes and streamline domestic and international distribution networks.

The Company intends to establish joint research and development partnerships with Canadian Licensed Producers operating under ACMPR regulations in Canada. The Company is also establishing commercial relationships with medical and recreational cannabis producers in the United States. The Company has made an equity investment in cannabis operations in South America. As the Company grows, it plans to build a diversified portfolio in commercial-scale cannabis cultivators and related downstream cannabis industry providers. The Company may invest in various private and public companies in diversified sectors on an opportunistic basis.
