Vancouver, B.C. – (April 1, 2016) THC BioMed Intl Ltd. (“THC”) is pleased to announce it has entered into an agreement with Affinor Growers,(CSE:AFI, OTC:RSSFF, Frankfurt:1AF) (“Affinor”), to install a vertical farming system in THC’s medical marijuana facility in Kelowna, B.C.

Affinor is a diversified agriculture and biotechnology company with proprietary state of the art automated vertical farming systems. The intention of the agreement is that Affinor will install, showcase and develop the technology under commercial conditions to ensure capabilities for, the low-cost mass production of cannabis and cannabis products. THC BioMed recently received its federal license from Health Canada to cultivate medical marijuana and has selected Affinor's equipment to be a leader in high quality mass production of cannabis and cannabis products as the market continues to grow.

“THC is excited to work with Affinor on introducing its vertical grow technology into the cannabis industry. We feel this is a perfect fit of science and technology for both highly qualified teams,” states John Miller, CEO of THC.

THC’s vision is to be on the leading edge of scientific research and development of products and services related to the medical cannabis industry while creating a standard of excellence. As the industry develops, it will become more important to focus on scientific research and development of products and services related to medical cannabis. Management believes THC is well positioned to be in the forefront of this rapidly growing industry. Please visit our website for a more detailed description of our business and services available.
